(By Associated Press)

Boston, Mass., November 30.—Chas. Ponzi, promoter of the quick-rich scheme in which thousands of persons invested millions of dollars before its collapse last August, pleaded guilty to using the mails in a scheme to defraud in the Federal District Court today.

Sentence of five years in the Plymouth County jail was imposed by Judge Hale.

The court took into consideration only the first count of one indictment of 44 counts in which it was charged Ponzi had represented falsely he was able to pay interest at the rate of 50 percent in 45 days from profits made in international postal reply coupons.

In arguing on the question of sentence Daniel H. Coakley, senior counsel of Ponzi, told the court it was only after advice from counsel and members of the discredited financier's family he agreed to retract his plea of not guilty and plead guilty instead.

"Mr. Ponzi insisted and still insists that there was in his mind no intent to defraud anyone," his counsel declared.

The little Italian, who with prison sentences in Canada and this country behind him, developed his supposed scheme of exchange in international postal reply coupons to proportions that made him a marked figure in finance only to have his gilded house of easy money topple over on him when the props of income from investors were pulled out, had an air of swagger when he faced the court. He was the same dapper man-about-town when he stepped from the Cambridge jail this morning as in the palmy days when he was the idol of the street crowds. A new tailored suit, smart cravat, handkerchief in breast pocket and feet adorned with spats made Ponzi again a man of presence.

As he faced another long prison sentence while his youthful wife sobbed on his shoulder he penciled on a memorandum blank his parting word to the public:

"Sic transit gloria mundi" (Thus passes the glory of the world), and handed it to the press.

Seattle, Wash., November 30.—Two surviving members of the crew of the missing barge W. J. Pierre, and the body of a third were found by an Indian searching party near Cape Johnson, Washington, last night, according to a telegram from Clallam Bay, Washington, to the Seattle Merchant's Exchange received today.

The Indians arrived at Skellam Bay today bringing the news of the finding of the two sailors. They were unable to find any trace of the barge which, when last seen, carried 23 persons including the captain's wife and baby.

Cleveland, O., November 30.—Miss Eunice Duncombe, 18, is in a hospital here today, her spine shattered by a revolver bullet fired last night by Ralph Swaim, 21, of Akron, her boyhood sweetheart, because she rejected his company and chose to seek a career in music and art, she told police. Physicians say she has a fighting chance to recover.

Immediately after shooting the girl, Swaim shot himself through the head, dying almost instantly. The shooting occurred in the vestibule of an apartment house where Miss Duncombe lived.

Geneva, Switzerland, November 30.—The Japanese delegation will not make any proposal for racial equality at this session of the Assembly of the League of Nations, it was announced by Viscount Ishii at this morning's session of the Assembly.

"Japan will patiently bide her time," said Viscount Ishii, "until an opportune moment shall present itself."

The Japanese delegation, he added, also had decided to withdraw its protest against annual meetings of the Assembly, although it requires five months time for a delegation from Japan to make the long journey and return.

He recommended meetings once in two years, with special meetings in emergencies, but said he would not press the point.

New York, November 30.—Sixteen of the 20 members of the Employing Metallic Furring and Lathing Association were arrested today on a charge of destroying evidence needed by the legislative committee investigating the "building trust."

They pleaded not guilty when arraigned in the court of general sessions and were held in $1,000 bail each. While the arraignment was taking place the legislative committee at its hearing in City Hall six times was adjourned in contempt, a witness, Joseph Penny, chairman of the Builders' Supply Bureau for declining to.

(By Associated Press)

Akron, O., November 30.—Directors of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company today notified common stockholders the dividend payable December 30th would be at the rate of six percent a year instead of eight percent.

This is in line with the conservative policy adopted by the company to conserve cash resources during the present readjustment period, the notification said.

The directors also announced all salaries would be reduced ten percent effective at once.

In explanation it was pointed out salaries were increased 20 percent within the past year to meet rising living costs. Now that living costs are going down adjustment must be made in salaries the directors said.

Argument in Telegraph Case

(By Associated Press)

Washington, November 30.—The District of Columbia Supreme Court after hearing arguments took under advisement today the application of the Western Union Telegraph Company for an injunction restraining Secretary Daniels from interfering with laying certain short cables near Miami, Florida.

It has always been the policy of the American Government "to prevent the laying of any cable on the shores of the United States which connected with a foreign country in which the cable company had a monopoly of cable connections," Secretary Daniels said in a statement filed today in the District of Columbia Supreme Court.

The statement is a supplemental answer to the suit of the Western Union Company which seeks to enjoin the Naval Secretary from interfering with the laying of certain cables.

Mr. Daniels said the proposed cable from Miami to Barbadoes is to be laid for the purpose of connecting with the system of the Western Telegraph Company, a British corporation, which has a monopoly of inter-port cables in Brazil to the exclusion of American companies.

LEAGUE

Assembly Unanimously*Question of Mandates Occupies Morning Session of Council

(By Associated Press)

Geneva, Switzerland, November 30.—Many delegates to the meeting of the Assembly of the League of Nations regard the coming week as the most critical period in the history of the organization.

Questions which have been settled in committees by a majority vote, after stubborn contests in some cases, must be decided in the Assembly by a unanimous vote. The only exception is in the case of the election of new members and amendments.

If the Assembly proves capable of agreeing without a dissenting vote on the difficult problems to be placed before it during the next few days, it will, in the estimation of some of the leading members, have passed a most dangerous point.

The Council of the League was engaged during the entire session yesterday with the question of mandates and could not proceed to the election of a successor to Sir Reginald Towers as high commissioner at Danzig.

It seems probable definite solution of the question relative to the economic blockade will not be reached at this session of the Assembly.

MANY STAPLE COMMODITIES SHOW BIG DROP

One-fourth Off In Price Of Numerous Articles Of Food In Past Sixty Days.

Food Luxuries Will Be Last
To Tumble Says Local Grocer.

According to estimates made by a local grocer the cost of living in this city has made a pronounced drop on many staple commodities of at least 25 per cent in the last sixty days.

The drop has been most pronounced in sugar; it was selling Monday at ten and a half and eleven cents. Lard is off 25 per cent and flour to almost the same degree. Meal is about three quarters as high as it was two months ago, while beans are still on the decline after dropping 35 per cent, it was declared. Butter is stabilizing after descending one-fourth.

These are articles, said the grocer, which make up the menu on almost every table and due to the fact that it is such commodities as these which have struck the descent the lowering in the cost of living has been all the more noticeable and has affected rich and poor alike.

There has been no descent in price to a marked degree in any other food articles, said the grocer, because they are luxuries and luxuries will not drop until every thing else has struck the level.

The grocer who stated these figures declared himself to be pleased with the reduction in food costs and said that it was of equal value to both the grocer and the consumer.

In summing up the situation the grocer said:

"The people do not mind when the price is advanced by the grocer, but they do ask that he be equally just and lower the cost when he is again able to sell at a lower price." That is what local grocers are doing he states.

PIGGLY-WIGGLY STORE TO OPEN

One of the men prominently associated with the movement for a new meat market in this city, recently incorporated as "The Citizen's Meat and Supply Company" has announced that in connection with the meat market a "Piggy-Wiggly" store will be operated, and that the new firm expects to get under way within a very short time.

The "Piggy-Wiggly" is the self-serve grocery, all goods being arranged so that the customer takes what is wanted and is checked up and pays at the door on the way out.

STATE CORN SHOW AT COLUMBUS IN JANUARY

A bumper corn crop and growing interest in the Ohio State Corn and Grain Show promises to result in an unusually large exhibits of high quality when the annual show is held at Columbus from January 31 to February 4. As usual, this event will be held in the armory at the Ohio State University and in connection with the annual Farmers' Week. A big addition to the usual corn exhibit is assured by providing a new class for students of agriculture in Smith-Hughes schools. The displays for this class will be selected from among the best shown at a large number of local contests held over Ohio.

LONE MINER WAS NOT ON STRIKE

Cardiff, Wales (By Mail)—A million of the coal miners of Great Britain participated in the strike, but there is at least one who did not obey the union call to quit work.

He presented himself for work at a South Wales pit where 20 men were employed keeping the colliery in order. He went down for his seven-hour shift, cut coal, put it in a tub and took it to the pit mouth single handed.

The great trouble with the majority of men who bet on a sure thing is that they always bet the wrong way.

EGGS DROP TEN CENTS A DOZEN

For the first time in weeks eggs receded in price Monday. There was a drop of ten cents per dozen in this city.

The price of eggs to producers Monday was 65 cents and consumers bought them in the market at 75 cents per dozen. This was a direct descent from 85 and 75 cents.

Local grocers said that the law of supply and demand, which regulates price, caused the drop. There were more eggs being marketed Monday than for some time. The approach of the end of the molting season and the open weather of the past ten days were attributed to the increase in production.

SAYS EMPLOYER KEEPING AN EYE ON REAL WORKERS

Employees Who "Soldiered" On Jobs During Shortage Of Help Will Be First To Go, Says Employer.

Men and Women Who Gave Best Efforts Will Be Ones Rewarded.

One of the large employers in this city, discussing the question of the rapidly accumulating surplus of labor in the country generally stated that during the next few months, in his opinion, the employees who loafed at their work knowing the difficulty of obtaining anyone to take their places during the last few years owing to the labor shortage, would be the first to lose their jobs as better material is available to take their places, or re-employment is necessary.

"It is a well known fact that a few employees did as little as they could and yet 'get by with their jobs', said the employer, 'and those men and women have no reason to kick if they are supplanted by more competent workers—conscientious persons who make the interests of their employers their own, and have some definite object in view.'"

According to the same man some of the lethargic workers must arouse to the necessity of more effort if they retain their jobs, while still others are going along in the same old way, and may soon find themselves out of work with jobs not so plentiful, and with demand for real effort increasing.

Continuing the business man said, "and some of the ordinary laborers, who charged excessive prices and then proceeded to 'soldier' at the task, will not be forgotten when former employers desire work done while labor is abundant and prices are decidedly lower."

FUNERAL SERVICES DR. GRANT MARCHANT

Undertaker Albert McCoy and Rev. Father Fogarty arrived in this city with the body of Dr. Grant Marchant on the 10:41 P. & O. Tuesday morning. Mrs. Marchant and daughter, Miss Iris, accompanied the body from Jacksonville, Florida.

The body was taken directly from the train to the McCoy Undertaking Parlor, where it will remain until Wednesday morning. Friends who desire may call at the undertaking parlor. Wednesday morning the body will be removed to St. Colman's church where services will be conducted at 9:30 o'clock.

Burial will follow in the Milledgeville cemetery.

BIG DELEGATION GOES TO HOLLAND

Taking advantage of the fact that Monday evening was "rest night" in the series of revival meetings being held at the Church of Christ, a delegation of more than fifty from the local congregation motored to New Holland and held a meeting in the church at that place. Should the meetings continue next week it is to be hoped to visit another neighboring congregation in a similar manner.

On Tuesday evening there will be delegations present from Pleasant View, Wilmington and possibly from Sabina. Seats will be reserved for the representatives from these churches.

Evangelist Thompson is preaching at present a series of four forceful and practical sermons on the "Prodigals." The subject announced for Tuesday evening is "Our Prodigal Mothers."

Mr. Eddins is proving himself an efficient chorus director and each evening the singing of the large choir is one of the delightful features of the meetings.

CARS FOR CUBA SHIPPED LOADED ARE SEEN HERE

For the past ten days the Pennsylvania railroad has been hauling through this city number of freight cars made in St. Louis, Mo., and en route to Cuba, where they will be used on the island transportation lines.

The cars are painted a brick red and are about the same size and capacity as the regulation car used in the United States. The word Cuba in large letters on the side shows the name of the road on which they will be used and the lettering, length, capacity, when made, and where, are worded in Spanish and the figures are given the metric system.

Agent Guy H. Linton, at the local Pennsylvania station, said Tuesday that instead of shipping the cars direct to the coast for shipment that the manufacturers were distributing them to all parts of the country, east and south of St. Louis and that they were being loaded along the route. Thus an otherwise useless car is made to serve in the great coast bound traffic and materials on their way to Cuba are sent through with little trouble.

After reaching Florida the cars take the Key West railroad and are then put on board ship for the water trip to the island.

OHIO CROPS INCREASE A FIFTH IN 20 YEARS

Ohio's crop yields have increased approximately 20 percent in 20 years according to the recent census. Better farming methods are declared to be showing results. For the 10 years preceding 1900, the average yield of wheat per acre in the state was only 14.7 bushels, for the 10 years preceding 1920 it averaged 17.1 bushels. With oats for the 10 years preceding 1900 the average yield was 30.5 bushels, for 10 years preceding 1920, it was 36.4 bu. With corn which occupies more acreage than any other crop in the state, the average yield for the 10 years preceding 1900 was 31.4 bushels, for the 10 years preceding 1920, 35.6 bushels, and for the 10 years preceding 1920, 38.5 bushels.

"Drainage, rotation, better seed, fertilization, and cultivation are leading to increased yields," says Dr. J. I. Falconer of the College of Agriculture. "That it is still possible to considerably increase the crop yields of the state is shown by experiments at the Wooster Experiment Station where yields of nearly twice the state average have been secured for the past 25 years. If the prices of farm products are sufficient to justify the expenditure of labor and capital the agricultural output of Ohio could be easily increased by 25 percent in the next 10 years. Whether or not this will be done will depend largely on the prices received for the products of the farm."

PENITENTIARY NOW HAS 1965 INMATES

There are now about 1965 men inside the big Ohio State Prison, or 300 more prisoners than in 1913 when the indeterminate sentence law went into effect. At that time there were 1665 prisoners, of whom, with the exception of lifers, there are still twelve men serving under the old law.

The oldest lifer has served 24 consecutive years. Since 1913 a total of about 7000 men have come into the institution and without the indeterminate sentence law the penitentiary would have had to be enlarged to at least twice its present size.

Figures obtained from record books at the penitentiary show that of those now serving, 346 are lifers; 4 have been in from seven to eight years; 17 from six to seven years; 43 from five to six years; 70 from four to five years; 107 from three to four years; 226 from two to three years; 477 from one to two years and the remaining 660 came in during the past year. Of the total, 1512 are kept in the big prison and the remainder work at the brick plant at Junction City, the farm at London and the stone quarry west of the state hospital.

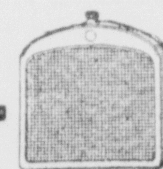

It is interesting to note that the average of offenders recently caught in the police nets in Columbus in connection with holdups and auto theft is about 20 years and that this average prevails in crimes of this nature committed all over Ohio, while it is thought that the average, if investigation is made in similar cases, will be practically the same all over the United States. The recent express robbery in Iowa was staged by a band of daring youths and those implicated in the big bank robbery at Kingston are said to be of the same class.

STEALING COAL ALONG RHINE

(By Associated Press)

Rotterdam, (By Mail)—Thousands of tons of German coal, intended for some of the Entente nations have been stolen while en route down the Rhine and smuggled into Holland on barges, says the Rotterdam Courant. Only a part of the coal was unloaded at the allied depots, and the rest, covered with stones, was brought down the river to Holland, says the newspaper.

New Battleships

Soon after the New Year is ushered in, according to present plans, the navy department will lay, at Fore River plant of the Bethlehem Ship Building Corporation Ltd., the keel of what is to be, when completed, the greatest warship in the United States navy—the superdreadnaught Massachusetts. Some weeks later, following present plans the keel of the Lexington, a new and a great cruiser, another addition to our navy, will be laid at the same yards and the work of constructing the vessels and placing the gun batteries and armor plate in position will be conducted as rapidly as circumstances permit.

The cost, of course, to the people will be tremendous. Vessels like the two to be built at the one yard, are costly and under present conditions more costly than ever before in history.

Only a few short months ago we were all elated because the prospect of our dreams of disarmament gave promise of being realized. The peoples of this and other lands hoped to be spared the enormous cost of armament construction and maintenance, thus permitting the hundreds and thousands of millions annually expended in preparation for war and destruction, to be used in the ways of peace. We were to have better highways, better churches, better schools and lower taxes with disarmament—a hope realized.

Present plans and present activities indicate that our hopes for relief were not justified and realization of the centuries old dream of mankind is deferred.

The Press

The press of the United States and the press of the world is facing a gigantic task during the next few years. Whether the troubled world finds itself once more and people return to a sane way of thinking and acting depends in a great measure upon the press.

The "yellow journal," the sensational press, always a menace to any nation, always an evil which never should be encouraged, by the support of a free people, must be frowned down if civilization is to emerge safely from the chaos of the present time.

People should search for facts, depend upon reputable and established sources of information, refuse to take seriously the ultra sensational trash which appeals to class or caste, disregard propaganda, quit complaining and fault finding, sit steady in the boat and welcome the return of life's steady grind of work even though at times, after the feverish excitement of war, it may seem a bit prosaic and common place.

It is the common place things of life, the simple wholesome things people need and it is the business—the duty—of the reputable press to emphasize more the normal happenings and place less stress on trouble and the trouble-makers.

The press can be, and will be the greatest aid available to the people of the world in this time of trouble.

Rough On The Farmer

The farmer has had and has now abundant proof that market prices are falling. He is receiving about one-third as much for his corn as he did only a few months ago. The price of wheat has been almost cut in two while hogs bring less than half as much in the markets as they did a year ago. And so it goes all down the line. The farmer was about the last among the nation's workers to receive higher prices and he is the first hit when the drop comes.

Really the farmer now has a right to make complaints and he is exercising that right but, with all his just cause for grumbling he is reasonable and dependable. He is making no wild threats but is quietly going about the work of so arranging his affairs that, in the future, he will be more nearly on a level with other workers both on advancing market and a falling market.

The farmer has, for years, been regarded as a sort of chronic complainer and fault finder and, in many instances deserved his reputation. Under the old regime, when farming was just work from early morning to late at night, the same thing every day and every season, he did get his bumps and didn't know why. Now he knows how to make his work count and the American farmer is no longer a grumbler.

No better proof could be had than the way farmers are taking their "luck" in the falling market.

POETRY FOR TODAY

THE FINDING OF THE LYRE

There lay upon the ocean's shore
What once a tortoise served to cover,
A year or more, the rush and roar,
The surf had rolled it over.
Had played with it, and flung it by,
As wind and weather might decide it.
Then tossed it high, where sand-rifts
dry
Clean burial might provide it.
So there it lay, through wet and dry,
As empty as the last new sonnet,
Till by and by came Mercury,
And, having mused upon it,
"Why here," he cried, "The things of things
In shape, material and dimensions,
Give it but strings, and lo, it sings,
A wonderful invention."
So said, so done, the chords ne strained,
And as the fingers o'er them hovered,
The shell disdained, a soul had gained
The lyre had been discovered,
O, empty world that round us lies,
Dead shell of soul and thought, forsaken,
Brought we but eyes like Mercury's,
In thee what songs would waken.
—James Russell Lowell.

MARK SULLIVAN SAYS MOST TALKED OF MAN FOR WAR PORTFOLIO IS JULIUS KAHN

Senator Chamberlain Put Forward by G. O. P. Leaders on The Theory That Harding May Want a Capable Democrat In His Cabinet

Generals Pershing and Wood Also Mentioned but General Belief
Is They Are Disqualified Because They Are Military Men

BY MARK SULLIVAN
(Copyright 1920)

Washington, November 30. — Repeating what I said yesterday in discussing possibilities for secretary of state—namely that all of this kind of discussion is only justified as a record of what is actually consuming a good deal of the time of Republican leaders—let us consider the men who are mentioned for secretary of war.

The discussions and surmises on this point center chiefly about four names—Gen. Leonard Wood, Gen. Pershing, Congressman Julius Kahn of California, and Senator George Chamberlain of Oregon.

Of these Gen. Wood is the most obvious. He has the favor of many Republican leaders, and that rather important section of the party which supported him for the Presidential nomination would be especially gratified at his selection. General Wood has in some degree the capacity that Mr. Roosevelt had for inspiring an almost extravagantly loyal devotion among the followers and those who come in contact with him. He is one of a very small number of public men who can be described as having a certain amount of national following.

If cabinet appointments were to be made on the basis that they sometimes have been, with the idea of cementing the loyalty of factions in the party, Gen. Wood's selection would be one of the surest. It is true that Mr. Harding having such a majority as he received, does not need to consider the placating of factions in making his cabinet appointments and also true that Gen. Wood's friends do not need to base their claims for him on this factor alone. His qualifications for the office are obvious.

But the same circumstances which qualify him also, in a sense, disqualify. The fact that a man is a professional soldier is in the minds of many an objection to his choice as secretary of war. It is rather an American tradition that the army shall be under the direction of a civilian.

Harding Under No Obligation to Wood.
In some of the gossip that has been published on this subject the likelihood of Gen. Wood being selected is on the ground of a deal made by him, or by his leaders on his behalf, at the Chicago convention with the victorious Harding forces. Considered in the light of the actual facts this is absurd, and is another example of the kind of subtle propaganda, not infrequent in the current gossip about cabinet appointments, designed less to advance a man than to impair his chances.

There may be some ground for the theory that the forces which nominated Senator Harding at Chicago have reasons for being grateful to Gov. Lowden or to his leaders for the switching of delegates during the closing ballots. But if this is true, Gov. Lowden is the only one of the defeated candidates for the Republican Presidential nomination who can be said to have a claim on Harding for aid in getting the nomination. Gen. Wood as a matter of fact was conspicuous in holding his delegates to the end.

All the Republican leaders agree that after the Harding nomination was made Gen. Wood went out of his way to give conspicuous support to Harding, and to induce his followers to do the same. The net of all this discussion of the political aspects of Gen. Wood's relation to the office of Secretary of War is that they neither qualify nor disqualify him, and are unfair, as much of the cabinet gossip is unfair, both to Mr. Harding and the man discussed.

Objections to Gen. Wood

The objection made to Gen. Wood by a few among the Republican leaders consist chiefly of doubts as to his temperamental adaption to the kind of teamwork that is necessary in a cabinet. Gen. Wood's career and all the distinctions he has earned have been chiefly in situations where he had sole control and sole responsibility. This was true in the Philippines in Cuba and in the various army posts where he achieved his honors. Some wonder is expressed whether this kind of one-man experience may possibly have led Gen. Wood to be unadaptable to that kind kind of friendly cooperation and the teamwork and to the taking into account of political and personal considerations which Republican leaders regard in essential in the new cabinet.

It is cited as proof for this argument that Gen. Wood is believed to be in a state of feud with some of the higher officers of the army, and the existence of this factional feeling is given as an additional reason why the selection of Gen. Wood might be inadvisable. A cabinet should be a happy family, and the higher officers of the army notoriously do not compose a happy family.

The truth is, these very qualities of decision and the habit of authority which makes Gen. Wood one of the outstanding personalities of contemporary American life, and cause so many to admire him devotedly, have been a detriment to his success in the field of politics. Incidentally, there is some reason for saying, that the trustees of two large universities are considering whether they could enlarge Gen. Wood as a national asset and take advantage of his capacity for inspiring young men, by making him a university president.

Would Pershing Want It?
Much that has been said about Gen. Wood applies also to Gen. Pershing. The traditional objection to putting an army officer at the head of the war department applies to him, and also the objection that his appointment would renew or intensify feuds already existing among high army officers.

Some Republican leaders doubt whether Gen. Pershing would care for the office. From youth up his experience has been that of an army officer only, with an army officer's personal authority and personal responsibility. Whether he would care to exchange this, or would indeed, be successful in an attempt to exchange this, for the greater give-and-take of a position that in all circumstances must have some political aspects may reasonably be doubted.

Any army officer, considering Gen. Pershing's situation, would say that it would be foolish for him to exchange what he now has for a four years' tenure as secretary of war, and that the thing which Gen. Pershing might be expected most to desire would be the opportunity to continue to be in fact what he is in name, the military head of the American army.

Next to Gen. Wood and Gen. Pershing the man most frequently mentioned in connection with the war department is Congressman Julius Kahn of California.

The reason lies in the fact that Congressman Kahn is chairman of the house committee on Military affairs, and as such has a body of information and experiences which is not duplicated by probably any other Republican. On geographical grounds it is pointed out that the Pacific coast ought to be recognized and that Mr. Kahn has proved his popularity there. In the recent election he had both the Republican and the Democratic nominations.

On the same geographical grounds however, it is pointed out that Congressman Nolan, also of California, being urged for the Department of Labor and that Herbert Hoover, who is also being discussed as a cabinet possibility comes from California as well. The truth is, however, that geographical grounds do not need to have much weight either for or against any man. When a President is backed by an overwhelming majority in many sections of the country as Senator Harding is he does not need to consider the geographical distribution of his cabinet.

Why Chamberlain Is Mentioned.
The mention of Senator George Chamberlain of Oregon rests chiefly on the theory that Senator Harding may wish to appoint at least one Democrat in his Cabinet. Mr. Chamberlain is the present senior senator from Oregon. He was defeated in the recent election by a bare three or four thousand votes, although Harding carried the state by an unprecedented majority.

Senator Chamberlain had tens of thousands of Republican votes, and his popularity among the Republican voters of Oregon is not less than the friendliness held for him by Republican leaders in Washington. If the theory that Senator Harding may wish to appoint a Democrat has any existence in fact, there is probably no Democrat whose appointment would be more appreciated by many Republican leaders.

The equipment of experience which suggests Senator Chamberlain for the particular office of secretary of war lies in the fact that he was, for the many years of Democratic control in the senate, chairman of the senate committee on military affairs. He was chairman of that committee at the time we entered the war, and the fact that as chairman of the committee he was willing to incur the displeasure of his own party chiefs by criticizing the conduct of the war by President Wilson and Secretary Baker helped to create the favor in which he is held by Republican leaders.

Let it be repeated and emphasized that what is said here is no more than the net of the intimate gossip of Republican leaders. It has no relation whatever to what may be going on in Senator's Harding's mind. The next secretary of war can as readily be some one else as any of these four who are put forward because of military careers in two cases; and in the other two cases, because of political careers which have happened to bring them into contact with military affairs.

It is certain that some Republican leaders are going to lay before Senator Harding the desirability of having an experienced business administrator for secretary of war.

Men do a lot of unnecessary things in this world and women say a lot of unnecessary things.

TEN YEARS AGO

(Herald News This Date 1910)

This afternoon witnessed an event of pre-eminent importance in the history of the I. O. O. F. of Fayette county—the laying of the cornerstone of their new temple.

With the laying of this cornerstone is the beginning of the realization of the I. O. O. Mr. and Mrs. Esty Cline and daughter Beulah of near Jasper Mills had as their recent guests for dinner, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Cartwright and son, Charles of Columbus, Mr. Homer Mitchell of Harmony, Mr. Edgar Mitchell, Miss Alpha Annabel and Gwendolyn Mitchell of near, Millersville, and Mr. Samuel Mitchell who makes his home with Mr. and Mrs. Cline.

For the first time in five years, the children were together for a reunion, the father Mr. O. E. Mitchell being unable to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Eph Worthington entertained as dinner guests Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Alva Jones, of Cincinnati, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Haines, of Buena Vista.

The Queen Esther Girls of the Methodist Church, under the direction of Mrs. B. E. Kelley, their leader, finished packing and posted two Christmas boxes, Monday. One box which contained fruit and jellies was sent to the Deaconess Home at Columbus, to be used for the sick there. The other, a regular Christmas box, goes to Olive Hill, Ky. to be distributed among the eighty mountain girls in school at that place.

This is the first time the Queen Esther girls have ever sent out Christmas boxes, and they were full of enthusiasm and interest in assembling and packing them, and especially glad to add to the Christmas cheer in these the rest cure.

Sarah Bernhardt, who, despite her recent illness, is to appear in "Daniel" at a Paris theater, has told a friend that not only would she never leave the theater, but that she felt sure her death would eventually come while she was acting a part before the public.

"Don't you really fear the fatigue of daily performances at your age?" asked a friend at one of the rehearsals of "Daniel."

"No," responded the divine Sarah. "The theater is my life, my soul. How would you think I should renounce it even for one day?"

"I will make you a prophecy; I shall die acting and in a piece of my own choosing."

Daniel, the part which Madame Bernhardt is to play, is a young opium smoker who commits suicide for love. The role is ideal for the crippled tragedienne, who can thus play it sitting or reclining.

Mrs. William H. Sharp, Columbus, president of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs, touching on a problem that confronts practically every municipality in the state today, sends the following message to clubwomen:

"We are confronted by a serious problem today. Statistics tell us that three persons out of every thousand are feeble-minded. At least one-fourth of these are women. As clubwomen it becomes our manifest duty to look to the care and proper segregation of the mentally deficient. Two years ago the Ohio legislature appropriated $650,000 for an additional home for the feeble-minded, but the board of administration has made no use of this appropriation. Let it be the work of this year to urge the immediate use of this money for the additional facilities in caring for these unfortunates. This is not only necessary as a humanitarian measure, but it is vitally important as a corrective and preventive issue. We must protect our coming citizens from this great danger. Let us ask as an organization and as individual clubs and clubwomen that steps be taken at once in behalf of this measure."

In March last week the school nurse, Miss Bahre, excluded from school a boy who was feeble minded and partially blind. It developed that overcrowded state institutions would not receive him. The state school for the blind would not accept him because he was feeble minded, and the feeble minded school would not have him because he was blind, or nearly so. There are hundreds of cases no doubt like this one all over Ohio. The money is available and something ought to be done, and done at once.

The Y. W. F. M. Society of Grace M. E. Church conducted a gratifying Rummage Sale in the church basement Tuesday morning, netting $101.89 for its treasury.

The donations had been exceedingly liberal and buyers were out in large number.

Mrs. Harry R. Rodecker is President of the organization and Mrs. J. Herbert Chapman capably fills the position of chairman. All the young women assisted.

Mrs. Carrie Cline Deere and son Cline, entertained at a delightful family dinner Sunday. Mr. Edward Johnson and family, of Wilmington, Mr. John Van Pelt and family, of Bowersville, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Johnson, of Sabina, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Maddox and daughter Carrie Elizabeth of this city.

Friends will be glad to learn that Miss Isabelle O'Neill is improving under special medical treatment, and the rest cure.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schmid and daughter, Katherine Mae, of Springfield spent Sunday with Mrs. Schmid's sister, Mrs. Glenn Rodgers.

Mr. James McDonald had as his guest, Monday, Mr. Paul North of North Carolina.

Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Boem, of Hyde Park, Cincinnati, have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Garrett and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Coffman the past several days.

Washington friends will regret to learn of the death of Colonel Charles N. Lindley, of Chillicothe, which occurred in New York City, Monday night following an operation. Col. Lindley married Miss Mary Louise Denver, sister of Hon. M. R. Denver and Mrs. Katherine Williams, of Wilmington.

Mrs. H. B. Dahl and daughter, Mrs. Willard S. Willis visited Mrs. Webster Mathews, Misses Nina and Mary Dahl in Columbus Sunday.

Dr. and Mrs. L. M. McFadden motored to Columbus, Tuesday to visit their daughter, Mrs. Ralph Beatty, Mrs. McFadden remaining over night.

The family house party entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. F. Jefferson in Bloomington the past week is now broken up. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jefferson going back to Philadelphia; Mr. Hugh Jefferson returning to Athens, and Robert and John Jefferson to the O. S. U. Monday, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Elliott Jefferson leaving for Indianapolis, Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Jefferson, Jr., and little daughter, of New York, will remain a few days longer.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Meek and daughter, Eleanor, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Quinn for the past six weeks, left Tuesday morning for their home in Denver, Colo.

Mr. Ben Story, of Cleveland, who has been visiting at the Story home in Chillicothe, is spending several days the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Story before returning to his home.

Mr. Clarence Pinkerton and family, who recently landed in New York after a two years' residence in England representing the Hammond Cutter Co. of Milwaukee, Wis., is visiting Mr. Pinkerton's parents, Supt. and Mrs. T. S. Pinkerton of the Children's Home.

THOMAS EDISON'S WIFE SERVING ON ALL-STAR JURY

Mrs. Thomas A. Edison.

Mrs. Thomas A. Edison, wife of the famous electrical wizard and long identified in civic undertakings, is serving as chief of a jury of prominent women in Jersey City. The jury is hearing the case of Jack Segall, charged by the New Jersey state board of registration and examination in dentistry with illegally practicing a crude art on the molars of several persons.

Mann was charged with selling intoxicants, and a check for $10, given by a local man who recently was seriously ill two or three days as result of drinking the concoction, was part of the evidence submitted. Attorney Jarvis, of Columbus, was down for the finish of the case.

USING LANTERNS ON SAFETY POSTS

Because of inability to get red globes for the ornamental safety posts lanterns are still being used.

The posts are placed at the intersections of North, Fayette and Main streets on Court Court street, some time ago and the manufacturers assured Service Director Tracy that the globes would be shortly obtainable.

The service director stated Tuesday that in all probability the globes will arrive in a day or two.

HUNTER IS FOUND HAD FALLEN DEAD

While James Stackhouse and D. B. Moore, of Wilmington, and E. N. Holloway of this city were hunting west of Wilmington, Monday, Mr. Stackhouse was suddenly missed by his companions, and when a search was made he was found dead, having fallen across his gun and evidently expired instantly.

Mr. Stackhouse had been in ill health for sometime, but was able to be about. Not ten minutes before his death he had killed three rabbits at three shots. Heart disease caused his death.

BOLLING MAKES DENIAL THAT HE RECEIVED BRIBE

Wants Full Investigation Made Of Charge

Says First Intimation Was An Anonymous Letter

(By Associated Press)
New York, November 30.—A denial he had ever taken money for influencing the disposition of contracts or machinery by the United States Shipping Board as charged by T. K. Sands, former Washington banker, coupled with a request that all of his business transactions with Sands be investigated "both for my own and my family's sake" was made before the Walsh Congressional Committee today by R. W. Bolling, President Wilson's brother-in-law and now treasurer of the Shipping Board.

Mr. Bolling told of business associations with Sands dating back to 1916 out of which grew several financial transactions.

Sands had testified he received $40,000 from the Downey Shipbuilding Company for "representing" it before the Board out of which he paid money to Mr. Bolling.

"Of the $40,000 which Mr. Sands says was paid for procuring contracts," Mr. Bolling declared, "I never heard of it until it was mentioned in anonymous letters coupled with threats that unless something was done to stop the proceedings of the Department of Justice against Mr. Sands my name would be brought into it. Upon receipt of those letters I personally reported the matter to the Department of Justice requesting that an investigation be made of my transactions with Mr. Sands."

"I feel it is unnecessary for me to say I never by word or deed tried in any way to assist the Provident Engineering Corporation or any other company to procure a contract."

Mr. Bolling was on the witness stand before the committee practically the whole of today's session.

COLUMBUS PAPER HITS AT COAL PRICES

Columbus, Ohio, November 30.—The Columbus Dispatch in a three-column front page display Monday printed the following editorial under the head of "Stop Profiteering in Coal?"

"Investigation by the Dispatch has shown that local distributors of coal are purchasing their supplies of high-grade Ohio coal at less than $5.00 per ton, delivered in Columbus, and are charging the householder on an average, more than $10 per ton.

"This is profiteering in its worst form, being an average for the turnover of more than 100 per cent.

"Situated as Columbus is, at the confluence of a number of streams of moving coal from nearby fields, this situation is intolerable.

"With the threatened scarcity of natural gas, immediate arrangements should be made for an adequate supply of coal for the domestic consumer, at a fair price.

"The Dispatch is assured that if the regular dealers do not adopt a more humane course, a number of men amply able to cope with the situation, deeming coal a fundamental necessity will form a permanent association to deliver coal to homes at cost plus a reasonable profit, the books to be audited by a committee of consumers."

RURAL SCHOOLS ARE CONTINUING TO GIVE REPORTS

Reports of the most encouraging nature for the Fourth Red Cross Roll continue to come in from the county and consolidated schools.

Along with the reports of many one-room schools that they have filled their quotas is the announcement that the Jeffersonville schools will hand in a one hundred percent membership. Bloomington and Good Hope will also make commendable showings, it is said.

The enrollment in the county ends in the schools December 1st and during the latter part of the week Superintendent O. S. Nelson will be able to hand over to the Fayette Red Cross Chapter the result of the drive in his schools.

SHERLOCK HERE IN REAL LIFE NABS THIEVES

Finds Clover Seed Scattered In Auto and Forces Return of Stolen Seed.

E. W. Swift Recovers Fourteen Bushels of Clover Seed, At Peebles, Ohio.

As result of recovering some 14 bushels of clover seed, recently stolen from E. W. Swift, on the Leesburg pike, "Jock" Holmes of this city has earned the sobriquet of "Sherlock" Holmes, and like the famous Sherlock he based his activities on theory and deduction.

When he heard of the theft of the seed and that a reward of $25 had been offered for recovery of the seed, "Sherlock" went on the theory that an automobile had been used in removing the grain from the Swift premises, and that one of the numerous sacks must have scattered a few seeds in the bottom of the machine, wherefore he deduced that if such a car could be found, the owner must explain why the clover seed was in the car.

His work along this line had been started by a previous case in which some hides had been stolen, and by simply following the scent he located a buggy in which the hides had been hauled, and nabbed his man.

Armed with the above theory, "Sherlock" Holmes started out to find an automobile with clover seed in the bed. After taking a peek into a great many machines his efforts were rewarded by discovering such seed in a machine. He waited for the owner, and when the owner denied having hauled any clover seed, his attention was called to the seed in the machine, and the theft of the seed from Mr. Swift.

According to "Sherlock" the young man finally admitted that the seed hauled had been stolen from Mr. Swift and implicated two other young men of the community in which Mr. Swift resides.

Being informed that the seed had been stored at Peebles, in Adams county, a trip was made to that town and the clover seed returned to the owner.

So far no affidavits have been filed, but Mr. Swift is being urged to prosecute the trio involved, and if he does not, the grand jury may be appealed to in an effort to punish the clover seed thieves.

BRITISH POLICE TAKE STEPS TO AVOID OUTBREAK

Doing Much and Talking Little

Many Cities Prepare to Combat Riots

(By Associated Press)
London, November 30.—The police of London and numerous other English cities continued today to establish elaborate safeguards against possible destruction of property and assassinations by elements which the authorities characterized as Sinn Fein. The officials are doing much and talking little.

A report is being circulated generally about London the Government fears trouble not only from the Sinn Fein but also from thousands of others who recently evidenced an ugly temper.

MRS. W. A. FEURT DIES AT MCCLURE HOME

The announcement of the death of Mrs. Lydia Feurt, wife of W. A. Feurt, of Chicago, and mother of Mrs. Roy McClure, which occurred at the McClure home on North Hinde street, about 2:00 o'clock Tuesday morning, elicits the deepest sympathy of many and warm friends.

Mrs. Feurt was visiting her daughter when stricken with paralysis several weeks ago. For a time medical skill and devoted nursing seemed to stay disease, but in the end proved powerless.

Mr. Feurt came on from Chicago as soon as possible after his wife succumbed to the stroke.

Mrs. McClure is the only daughter and the only son recently died in Montana. Five grandchildren survive, three in the McClure family and two of the son's children. The family ties were very closely drawn and Mrs. Feurt's devotion leaves the husband, daughter and grandchildren doubly bereft. She was sixty-five years of age.

The Feurts were southerners coming about fifteen years ago from Missouri to Bloomington, where Mr. Feurt engaged in the carriage business for a short time before moving to Chicago, where they continued to make their home.

Numerous friends made in Bloomington and this city two decades ago as well as later ones resulting from frequent visits here will learn of Mrs. Feurt's death with great regret.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at two o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. McClure and burial will follow in Bloomington cemetery.

COX HOME FILLED FOR LAST SERVICES

A large number of relatives and friends gathered at the Cox home at Parrotts Station Sunday afternoon for the funeral services of Mrs. Jefferson Cox.

Rev. McKinnon of the M. P. Church of Jeffersonville, conducted the services, deeply appreciative of a woman held in high regard by the community. The hymns read were "Home of My Soul" and "Some Time, Some How."

The burial was made in Spring Grove cemetery, the pallbearers Hon. Reuben Rankin, Messrs Louis Perrill, C. F. Erick, Howard Hagler, Homer Kessler, Sam Clemens.

Beautiful flowers surrounded the casket.

Relatives who were in attendance at the services were Mr. J. W. Johnson, a brother, and wife, of Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cox, of Springfield, Mr. and Mrs. George Cox and son, Martin, of this city.

RE-APPRAISEMENT IN FAYETTE WILL START DECEMBER 15

Steps toward completing the reappraisal of all realty in Fayette county will be started about December 15th, County Auditor Pine announced Tuesday, and all the work will be finished by March first, it is expected. Virtually all of the work has been completed in Fayette county except Jasper township and this city, subject to revision by the County Board of Revision, and the State Tax Commission.

In this city the work will not require over a few weeks at the outside, and the new appraised values of real estate throughout the county will be put on the 1921 duplicate.

Definite orders from the State Tax Commission to complete the task and to place the new valuations on the 1921 tax duplicate have been received by County Auditor Pine.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Chester West, who underwent special treatment at the Hodson Hospital during convalescence from sickness, was removed to his home near Jeffersonville, Monday.

For special treatment Mrs. Mary Strong of Sabina has entered the Cherry Hill Hospital.

ARE IMPROVING LEWIS STREET

Scrapper and Roller Converting Much Shunned Street Into Condition Fit for Travel.

Within a few days Lewis street, Columbus avenue to Paint street, with other improved streets of this city, will no longer continue to be avoided by traffic.

Service Director Tracy has the scraper and road roller at work and the materials on the street are being torn up and rolled down into a smooth surface.

Columbus avenue from the end of the paving to the corporation line was finished Saturday after being subjected to almost the same process Lewis street is undergoing.

Other streets needing attention will be treated as fast as the workmen are able to get to them. Bad weather coupled with inability to get materials, has been detrimental to progress in the work, it was said.

SEASON RECORD IS BRILLIANT

Washington High Finishes
Schedule With Eight Victories and One Defeat.

Scored Forty-one Touchdowns While Own Goal Line Was Crossed But Eight Times.

Eight victories and one defeat is the record of the Washington High School football team for the 1920 season just completed.

In leaving the field eight times victorious the Blue and White scored a total of 41 touchdowns while the opponents crossed the goal line but eight times and kicked one field goal. Washington turned in 261 points for the season and the opposition 53.

The season's record is as follows:
At Greenfield—Washington 24, Mc-
Clain 6.

At Home—Washington 12, Hillsboro 6.

At Home—Washington 40, McClain 14.

At Hillsboro—Washington 28, Hillsboro 12.

At Home—Washington 19, Circleville 0.

At Wilmington—Washington 28, Wilmington 3.

At Circleville—Circleville 12, Washington 6.

At Washington—Washington 47, Chillicothe 0.

At Home—Washington 57, Wilmington 0.

As was fitting Captain Rogers led his team in scoring while Deen was a close second. The seven men who took part in the scoring made the following number of touchdowns: Rogers 13; Deen 9; Lamb 5; Flee 4; Hitchcock 3; Deere 3; Miller 3; Nelson 1.

Washington's one defeat was at Circleville and there has been a silent protest against this game by hundreds of fans. In consecutive games after this defeat Washington won over Chillicothe 47 to 0 and Wilmington 57 to 0. It was one of the most successful seasons in all departments of the game that the school has ever experienced.

Dizziness Causes Fall— Head Injured

"A year ago my stomach bloated so badly with gas that I fell unconscious and cut my head badly on corner of door. I had suffered from stomach trouble for several years and no medicine helped me to speak of. A druggist patched up my head and advised me to use May's Wonderful Remedy for my stomach trouble. The results have been really wonderful. I have never had any sign of my former symptoms since." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. RUN YOUR CAR FOR LESS

Next year why not run your car for much less cost than you did last year? It can be done, absolutely, by joining our co-operative plan and buying everything for your car at cost—the oil, gasoline, repairs, greases, even the labor on repair jobs at actual cost.

It is a simple matter. If you own a car taking a 30x3½ inch tire your membership cost is $20.00 for a year; if your car takes larger tires than that the cost is $25.00 per year.

After you pay the entrance fee you are entitled to all the privileges named on the contract, which include the buying of everything you will need for your car, truck or tractor at cost plus the added expense of delivery. Isn't it worth your consideration to be able to be a partner in a business you make use of almost every day in the year?

All agreements made this month are dated to expire January 1, 1922—giving you a whole month gratis. Give us your application and begin to everything you will need; and in addition to the buy-at-cost feature it does away with the mysteries of garage business—it makes overcharging impossible, for you are charged at cost, even to the labor of mechanics.

The expenditure now of about 5½ cents a day for the year gives you these privileges if you own a Ford or a Chevrolet; about 7 cents a day if you own a large car taking large tires. The saving on a set of tires alone will more than pay the entrance fee, and the remainder of your saving is velvet.

Your saving on one accident making necessary a heavy repair cost would indeed pay the membership fee for a year.

Just do a little figuring; you know what it costs to operate your car; and you know something near what the things you buy cost the dealer. Under our plan you will know exactly what it costs us and you pay only that cost, plus, of course, the added expense of transportation—and that's all there is to it. Get in line, see us at once.

WOULD INVITE AMERICAN CAPITAL

Berlin, (By Mail)—Deputy Schlittenbauer, a member of the economic commission of the Bavarian Diet, suggests that participation of American capital in the Ruhr district should be invited in order to circumvent any French attempt at occupying this region.

He proposes that this German industrial district should be organized into a single economic unit, in which American capital should be given 25 per cent interest. Such American holdings, he states, would suffice to head off any French invasion.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

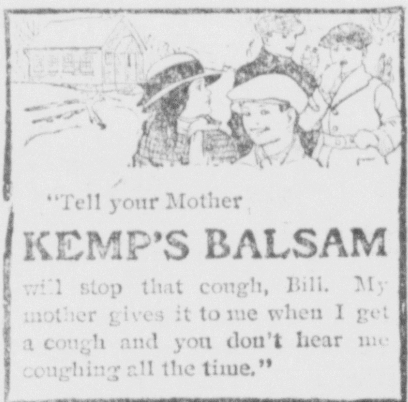

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing, vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 13c and 30c.

FIRE CHIEF URGES CLOSE INSPECTION OF HEATER VENTS

Every property owners who is not positive that the flue of hot water heaters, commonly known as instantaneous heaters, does not extend directly through the roof to the open air, is urged by Fire Chief Mayo to make an inspection and if the flue has been allowed to stop after penetrating the ceiling of the bathroom or wherever located, then to have the flue extended through the roof at once.

It has come to the attention of the fire chief that some plumbers at one time installed the heaters with as little work as possible by not extending the flue through the roof, allowing them to stop just under the roof with the results that there is great likelihood of the roof igniting and destroying or seriously damaging the property. Make assurance doubly sure by a personal inspection or by calling a competent workman to examine the flue, is the advice of the fire chief.

DEMAND FOR COAL BEYOND SUPPLY

While the coal shortage in this city has been cut down almost to a minimum yet the demand still continues to keep ahead of the supply and local coal offices are not able to keep a surplus on hand.

Coal was arriving in this city Monday to replenish empty bins stripped during the week end rush for fuel but orders were already on hand sufficient to consume it in its entirety.

Coal dealers do not hesitate in telling citizens to get their coal as soon as possible but an acute shortage is not predicted.

In this city Monday coal was selling at $10.50 and $10.75 per ton according to quotations by two local dealers who said the demand still continued heavy.

PLANS TO BEAUTIFY COURT HOUSE LAWN

The designs for the Court-house grounds have been completed and bids will be received Monday for the shrubbery and trees which are to be set out on the lawn.

Blue print specifications for the shrubbery have been made by Fred Weltz and County Surveyor Collet designating where each tree and each shrub shall grow and the kind of shrub or tree that shall be set out.

Like Heintz's pickles, as Mr. Collet explains it, there will be 57 varieties of shrubs on the ground. Twenty-five trees will grace the beautiful lawn, 18 of which will be weeping willows and will be set out around the outskirts of the grounds. The walks will be hedged in with 1,600 feet of barberry hedge, bordering the walks leading to the Court-house doors and the walks leading to the edge of the grounds.—Wilmington News.

Moose Head Lake
Maine

PETE, HERE'S WORD FROM THE WOODS!

Certainly slipped on not tipping you that Mr. Bacon invited me to join his shooting party up here. Arrived at his Northeast Carry camp at sunset yesterday. And a riot started before we squared up to the venison steak! Listen, old bull pup—my tale's short!

Bleak Nixon, chief guide, while unpacking, made the terrible discovery that all the Camel cigarette supplies had been swiped in transit! Never heard such a howl as the whole outfit set up! Nixon swore in Indian-plus-Canuck! Just wouldn't be pacified! Bleak's been rooting for Camels since November, 1915. Says there never was such smoothness, or refreshing flavor, or mild body in a cigarette as Camels provide! (Pete, Bleak is O. K. on that). While the row was on what does Nixon do but hop into his canoe and disappear into the depths of the dark, dank night!

About three this morning there was a roar such as no man ever heard in the wild woods! It was Nixon yelling like a double-decked bull moose! That bird had crossed the lake, picked up a trail and beat it to a little way-back store where he got the boss out of bed and made him come across with all the Camels he had. The storekeeper kicked like a handful of aces—but, Bleak always gets what he goes after! It's the nerve, old tooth! And, now we're all filled with the milk of human kindness and Camel contentment! We'll get game!

Peter, think of digging up a bunch of Camels in the depth of Maine's densest woods! And, that's the way it is all over the U. S. A.! You're never out of luck when you smoke Camels! Peter, old hub, I've spoke—as the cook puts it!

Back in New York—well,—soon!
Your old pal

Shorty.

An Investment in Usefulness

With the Franklin, motoring is practical and unrestricted—in every sense. Gasoline goes so far, tires last so long, and repairs are so infrequent, that expense is at a minimum.

Franklin light weight, flexibility and direct air cooling make the car so comfortable and easy to handle, and so free from cooling and tire worries, that no road is too rough, no extreme of heat or cold too severe. Ask the man who owns one.
